IN AFFECTIONATE REMEMBRANCE OF FRANCES
THE BELOVED WIFE OF
EDWARD COCKERILL
WHO DIED 10TH FEB 1876
AGED 72 YEARS

Frances Cockerill (Nash) born in 1804 in Hempnall/ baptised 19/08/1806 and Married 17/11/1828.

Edward Cockerill died 08/10/1877 aged 75.

1871 – living at High Road, Hopton and is a Gatekeeper.
William Balls was a rural postman who died while carrying out his postal duties on Monday 2nd January 1899. His death and subsequent inquest was reported in the local press at the time.

He was a Hopton man and his father lived at the White House Farm (found on the other side of the A12). At the time of his death he lived at Gorleston with his wife and family.

18 months before his death he contracted flu which developed into pneumonia, leaving him with a slowly developing cavity in his left lung. The Saturday before his death he had visited his doctor with a bad cough and pains in his left side. The doctor advised him rest or he would undoubtedly die; which Balls supposedly replied “What am I to do? I must do my duty” adding that his work had been so heavy over the Christmas period that he had been unable to rest.

His round was about 16 miles. He started his daily round at 6am and worked until 9.30am and then began again at 4.20pm finishing at 6.30pm carrying mail of a maximum weight of 35lbs. At 10.00 on the morning of his death, a complaint was received from Hopton that the mail had not been delivered so a search was arranged. Meanwhile at 10.30 Robert Hales, a local farm worker discovered William Balls collapsed in a field he was ploughing. The field he was found coincidently belonged to William Ball's father and was 10 minutes walk from White House Farm. William Balls left behind a pregnant wife and a family, and was buried in the churchyard of the old ruined church of St. Margarets. There is some belief that he is the ghost of the A12 sometimes referred to as “the old man of Hopton” with several similar sitings by various witnesses.

Inscription to be recorded…

According to the book “The History and Antiquities of the Hundreds of Blything and Part of Lothingland in the County of Suffolk” by the Reverend Alfred Suckling, Vicar of Barsham, published in 1847, there were a number of memorials to the Sayers family in Old St Margaret’s, before it was burnt down in 1865.

A large badly damaged memorial stone slab are now the last visual remains of these and also a stone which marks the area of the vault, which was partly excavated in an archaeological dig which took place as part of the ruins conservation project in August 2014. This had last been explored in October 1981, when a group from the YMCA led by the Reverend Chapman unearthed the brick steps and vault found to contain seven coffins stacked neatly one upon the other. At the time only two of the inscriptions were able to be identified, that of, :- Maria Sayers - died 5th July 1868, aged 77 years and Chas Edward Sayers who died April 13th 1831 aged 2yrs 5mths.

The tithe map and register of 1844 shows Christopher Sayers (husband of Maria) as being the owner but not occupier of a house, gardens and lands, now known as Hopton House. The burial registers show that he died in 1857 at the age of 61 years. One of his relations John Sayers died 13th October 1822 aged 40, when his ship the Revenue “Ranger” Cutter perished on Happisburgh Sands during a sudden storm. He was Commander of the vessel from which 29 perished and 7 were saved.
